

XXIII Olinca Model United Nations 2026

Welcome Letter

Dear delegates,

It is an honor to welcome all of you to the 23rd edition of the Olinca Model United Nations. We are delighted to announce that OLINMUN has begun its preparations to ensure the best possible experience for every delegate participating in this year's edition.

OLINMUN aims to provide an extraordinary opportunity to learn about current global issues, to better understand the challenges our world is facing, and to exchange ideas beyond the classroom. However, this model goes even further; it provides the space to develop the skills that define responsible and engaged global citizens in today's world. OLINMUN allows critical thinking skills to be reinforced, encourages listening with empathy and negotiating with respect, above all, it enables the acknowledgement and understanding of the impact of one's voice. We are confident that every opinion, idea and perspective shared will contribute to a meaningful and impactful debate that can inspire real change.

OLINMUN would not be possible without staff members from 10th, 11th and 12th grade who have organized this model with dedication and extremely hard work. Finally, we want to thank Daniela Sandoval Careaga, who has lead us to achieve the best MUN experience for all.

As you, delegates, take part in this model, we encourage you to embrace every challenge and opportunity to learn. We are looking forward to meeting you and hearing your innovative proposals.

Welcome to OLINMUN 2026!

Sincerely,

Vania Elena de la Fuente Olguín, Secretary General
Mateo Benita Saldivar, Chief of Staff and Protocol
María Fleming Loera, Secretary of Academic Affairs
